HUNTED IN VAIN.

THE SEARCH FOR McCULLY BRINGS HIM NOT.

Sheriff Adams and Posse Return to Conway Springs Without the Desperado.

Two Prisoners, Shacked Together, Escape From the Officers at Winfield—All Quiet in Stevens County.

Another Kansas Railroad Corporation—The Salina Episcopal Military Institute Will Open September 20.

Special dispatch to the Daily Eagle. CONWAY SPRINGS, Aug. 21.—Wm. McCully is nowhere—at least that is what Sheriff Adams and his posse concluded when they returned from a search of several hours, unable even to get the faintest clue to his whereabouts. They, in fact, gave up the search under the belief that he was either securely hidden by friends or was in the Territory. McCully told his friends that he would attend a circus at this place Saturday, and not a few believed he would do so. It is now supposed that he is in the Territory. Reports of his having passed to the west of Caldwell, going south, last Saturday, have reached us; also that two United States marshals are after him in the Territory. The state offers a reward of $50 for his body, and it is to be hoped he may be captured and returned without loss of life to his captors.

DIDN'T STOP TO UNSHACKLE. WINFIELD, Aug. 21.—Deputy United States Marshal James Koonce arrived in this city from Sedan yesterday morning with three prisoners, Frank Dillinger and Frank Diller, charged with selling liquor in the territory, and — Lowe, charged with horse stealing and robbing the United States mails. The party went to a hotel to wait for the train to Wichita, and after dinner Marshal Koonce went with Dillinger to see an attorney, leaving Diller and Lowe in charge of a guard, the prisoners being handcuffed together. A few minutes later the prisoners started around the corner of the house, saying they were going to the water closet, but instead ran down the alley and escaped. The guard followed them to the corner of the house, and, not seeing them, at once gave the alarm, and fully 100 men are searching for them. It is reported that they were seen in the suburbs of the city, still shackled together, but the officers think they have succeeded in breaking their shackles, and that one of them has been tracked into the city. The search is now in progress, and the local officers are looking for the fugitives.

QUIET IN STEVENS COUNTY. Special dispatch to the Daily Eagle. HIGGON, Aug. 21.—Peace once more reigns supreme in this county, and the best of all county officers are quiet at present, although the stage driver from Liberal reports Woodsdale men daily riding over the east part of the county seeking the blood of Higon men. Your correspondent is satisfied from what he can learn that the Higon people (who are largely engaged in the farming element) will not leave their town or territory to injure a single Woodsdale person, and if compelled to fight will only do so in self defense, as they always have done. Of course, if attacked, they are amply able to protect themselves. People in this county were pleased with the EAGLE's editorial on Sam Wood.

A NEW ROAD. TOPEKA, Aug. 21.—The following charter was filed with the secretary of state today. The St. Louis, Baxter Springs & Oklahoma Railroad company, the place of business of which corporation is at Baxter Springs. The proposed road passes through the counties of Cherokee, Labette, and Montgomery, with various branches, one of which will run to Kansas City, and another to Salina. Directors—J. C. Murdock, Salina; W. H. Herder, C. N. Weagley, Baxter Springs; Ed Burgess, James Kinsey, Charles W. Alexander, Patrick Harrison and Alexander Douglas, Topeka; Alex. Warner, Pomfret, Conn.; capital stock, $100,000. The estimated length of said railway is 1,300 miles.

SALINA MILITARY INSTITUTE. SALINA, Aug. 21.—The Episcopal military institute for boys, erected by the city of Salina, Kan., at a cost of $75,000, will be completed this month and the school opened September 20.

DROWNED. LAWRENCE, Kan., Aug. 21.—A very sad accident happened near Endora yesterday noon. Two brothers, Charles and Frank Hobbs, aged 18 and 20 years, were bathing in the Kansas river, in company with three other boys. They got beyond their depth, and not being able to swim, were drowned before the eyes of their horrified comrades. Search was made for the bodies and about 6 o'clock last evening the body of Charles was recovered. The other one has not been found.

ENFORCING THE LAW. LEAVENWORTH, Aug. 21.—Stringent enforcement of the liquor law has compelled the hotels, which have been running their bars surreptitiously all along, to close them at last. The proprietor of the Continental hotel publishes a notice today saying that he will shut up the house at the end of the month, and the landlords of the Delmonico and National hotels have declared they will do the same thing. This will leave the city with comparatively no hotel facilities. The hotel men say they cannot run their houses with profit with the bars closed. The attorney general has instituted proceedings to impeach the sheriff of this county for refusing to aid for a fishing excursion he is alleged to have made with a convicted saloon keeper.

THE IMMIGRATION INVESTIGATION. NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Collector Magone was the first witness examined today before the congressional commission investigating immigration abuses. Witness said he never uses his authority in not allowing improper persons to land unless the immigration commissioner called his attention to them. He read amendatory laws to support his authority for such action. He had a report of some stone cutters being imported to this country under contract. He referred the matter to the commissioners of immigration and received a reply that the stone cutters were not imported under contract. Witness and investigator Captain Bell's stories about false naturalization and found them false.

General Master Workman Powderly was the next witness. He said that the order was in a flourishing condition and numbered about 600,000 members in the United States. He said it excludes from its ranks bankers, lawyers, rum sellers, loafers and professional politicians. A professional politician, he said, was a man who was seen on election day with his hand stretched out for a bribe. On the subject of imported contract labor, Mr. Powderly said the system was most reprehensible. Those foreigners who come here under such conditions are grossly immoral and the influence which ordinary foreigners exert in this country never reach these competitors with honest labor. They are brought here under promises of lands and great prosperity, which they never realize. Describing the condition of workers in the Pennsylvania coal mines, Mr. Powderly said it was scarcely describable. In the coal region the native miners have been driven out of their employment by Hungarians and other cheap foreign working-men who live in a filthy state. They live on the cheapest kind of food so that their American miners cannot compete with them. Their sleeping quarters are simply disgusting. Their immorality, witness said, was startling. He said he had seen a man who was an abandoned woman who acted as a housekeeper for eight Hungarians. These Hungarians never learned the English language, and they never intended to return to their native country. They never become Americanized. The universal opinion of American workmen, said Mr. Powderly, was that the men who come along the line of the Pennsylvania railroad—Hungarians and Italians, who are designated only by brass checks hung on their chests, and who are not allowed to speak English, are a disgrace to the American citizens. They bore no names and their checks are frequently changed to treat them out of their wages. Germans, he found, took pride in learning the English language. He thought no person should be admitted to citizenship until he could read and understand the Declaration of Independence and the constitution of the United States. Of course, foreigners should not be kept out of the country until they were able to do this, but our consuls should inquire into the character of every man who leaves foreign countries for the United States.

A BAD STORM. NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 21.—Passengers arriving by the Texas & Pacific railway from Shreveport, report great damage to buildings and crops. Sugar houses and other buildings were damaged or destroyed and crops were blown down. A similar condition is reported from many points on the Missouri river. The storm, which was the worst of the season, is reported to be the worst since the "Warren" hurricane. The storm, which was the worst of the season, is reported to be the worst since the "Warren" hurricane. The storm, which was the worst of the season, is reported to be the worst since the "Warren" hurricane.

STREATOR DECLINES. CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Robert H. Cowdery, candidate of the United Labor party for president of the United States, recently challenged A. J. Streator, candidate for president of the Union Labor party to a joint debate. He has received a reply which in part reads: "While I do not believe in Mr. George's land tax theory, yet in this canvass I have not antagonized your peculiar tax theory. I have left you to your own device, and you are not happy. I am not one of those who promote divisions of labor organizations by setting up a lobby to ride. Very respectfully I decline."

THURMAN'S TRIP. TOPEKA, O., Aug. 21.—Congressman R. F. Shively, of Indiana, J. R. Whiting, of Michigan, and W. H. Hatch, of Missouri, joined the Thurman party at this place this morning. The arrangements for the day were not wholly completed until the last minute. As soon as the party could be brought together after breakfast carriages were procured and all were carried to the wharf and embarked on the trip up the Detroit river. Dinner will be had at the Grosjean Point club house and from there the party will be carried on by easy stages to Port Huron, probably spending the night at the Oakland house.

THE FISHERIES. OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 21.—Hon. Charles Tupper, minister of fisheries, has returned from the Maritime provinces. He gave considerable attention to the fishery protection service, going over a portion of the fishery grounds in the Northumberland Strait and the Gulf of St. Lawrence. He expressed his satisfaction at the manner in which the fishery protection service was being carried out, and particularly at a desire on the part of American fishing vessels to comply with the Canadian regulations.

A SINGULAR ACCIDENT. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 21.—A singular and fatal accident occurred near Aurora Sunday. Samuel Williams and his wife and 6-year-old child were returning from a field near the house when a large oak tree fell upon them. Williams' neck was broken and his skull cracked. The child was smashed into a jelly. The mother escaped with serious injuries.

NO FEAR OF YELLOW JACK. SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 21.—No one entertains fears of the outgrowth of the fever in Savannah, but the city is thoroughly quarantined against the infected portions of Florida and it is strictly maintained.

THIRTY TO TWO LESS.

THE SENATE REFUSES TO RATIFY THE FISHERIES TREATY.

The Three Conditions Voted on Separately, and Each Rejected by Strict Party Vote.

Senator Platt Gave Notice That He Will Immediately, to the Exclusion of All Other Business.

Bring Up the Bill for the Admission of Washington Territory, Northern Dakota and Montana.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—At the close of Mr. Morgan's speech the immediate proceedings on the fisheries treaty were interrupted by the reading of a resolution offered by Mr. McPherson, returning thanks to the state of New Jersey for the statutes of Richard Stockton and Philip Kearney, to be placed in the old house of representatives. They were read and accepted in the name of the nation.

After adoption of the resolutions the senate proceeded to vote on the fisheries treaty, the first vote being taken on Mr. Gibson's motion looking either to amendment of the treaty or to adjournment. It was rejected by a strict party vote; yeas, 22; nays, 31.

The next vote taken was on an amendment proposed by Mr. Morgan to article 2, providing that on all occasions facilities shall be accorded to United States fishing vessels in Canadian ports for the purchase of casual or necessary supplies and for repairs. It was rejected by a party vote; yeas, 22; nays, 30.

Mr. Platt introduced a bill to pension the widows of soldiers without regard to the cause of the soldier's death, provided that they were married during the military service of the soldiers. The senate joined in the bill, appropriating $200,000 to suppress infection in the interstate commerce of the United States was reported and placed on the calendar.

Mr. Morgan gave notice that he would move to the right to amend the bill with the chairman of the select committee on the Pacific railroads (Mr. Frye) he proposed to ask senate tomorrow to proceed to the consideration of the bill, relating to the debt of the Union Pacific railway. The report was unanimous and the bill corresponded precisely with the bill reported unanimously in the house.

The conference report on the naval appropriation bill was agreed to. Mr. Vest, from the committee, reported a substitute to the house bill to change the time of the sessions of the circuit court of the western divisions of the district of Missouri, and it was agreed to and the bill then passed. The senate then passed ninety-three private bills upon the calendar.

HOUSE. WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Mr. Hooker, of Mississippi, introduced a bill, which was referred to the committee on judiciary, on changing the time for assembling of the Fifty-first and subsequent congresses to the first Monday in March of each year instead of the first Monday in December. Mr. Lyman, of Iowa, in explaining his reasons for objecting to the bill, referred to the transaction of business in the absence of quorum, expressed his anxiety to have some general pension legislation enacted, and criticized the committee on rules for refusing to report a resolution assigning a day for the consideration of such legislation. He was informed that that committee had not held a meeting since April 1, notwithstanding the efforts of the Republican members of the committee to secure one. He also charged the Democratic side of the house with filibustering against the adoption of the resolution.

CAPT. KINNEY KILLED.

CHIEF OF THE BALD KNOBBERS MEETS HIS DEATH.

Bill Miles, an Anti-Bald Knobber Shoots the Outlaw in a Street Quarrel.

Miles Escaped—Excitement Runs High and More Blood Will Probably Be Spilled—The White Caps.

Of Indiana, Fearing Members Have Given the Order Away. Are Disbanding—Dan Lyons Hung—Female Counterfeiters—Crime Notes.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 21.—Capt. Nat Kinney, the famous chief and founder of the Bald Knobber organization was shot and killed instantly at Ozark, Christian county today by Bill Miles, an anti-Bald Knobber. Miles escaped. The men have been at daggers points for two years past, the feud dating from the time when Kinney was chief of the outlaw band and ruled Christian county with a rod of iron. The men at a Republican rally in Ozark quarreled and were separated. Later the quarrel was renewed and the men drew their weapons and fired simultaneously. Kinney being shot through the head, dying instantly. Miles escaped unhurt. Kinney had a large following in the county and more bloodshed is looked for.

Later advices from Ozark, Mo., confirm the killing of Captain Kinney, of the famous outlaw band. The Bald Knobbers, and gives details of the tragic affair. After the first quarrel between Kinney and Miles the friends of each endeavored to get them out of town but failed. The men met again, the Bald Knobbers' troubles were taken up, and the argument soon became a second quarrel. The shooting followed. Before the report of the pistol had fairly died away, the giant Bald Knobber staggered and fell, his brains and blood forming a pool about him. There is intense excitement and more bloodshed is feared as Kinney has almost a unanimous following in the hills. Among the rough people there are many who are ready to follow their chief into any adventure. A message has already been sent to Harrison, Ark., for blood hounds to track the murderer, and there is a strong feeling that fair never before equaled in the Bald Knob hills. The murdered chief was a noble specimen of rugged manhood. He stood about 6 feet high, weighed 300 pounds, and was king of the boldest band of outlaws. Kinney was a native of Indiana. His first individual murder was the killing of Andrew Coghlan at a church near Ozark, on Sunday, March 12, 1886. After this numerous outrages were committed, and his death is hailed with as much joy by the anti-Knobbers as it is with trembled sorrow by the members of the old band.

THE WHITE CAPS DISBAND. NEW ALBANY, Ind., Aug. 21.—The white caps organization in Crawford county held a meeting near Mareta, a few nights ago, after a heated discussion resolved to disband the organization. The action is said to have been brought about by the fear that Attorney General Meeker had become advised of the inside workings of the organization through agents of the United States marshal at Mareta. The members who had been promised immunity on condition that they give up all acts connected with the many outrages committed in that county and in Orange county by the bands of regulators or white caps.

DAN LYONS HUNG. NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Dan Lyons, the murderer of Quinn, the athlete, has expired his crime from the scaffold of the toms prison. He was hanged at 7 a. m. Lyons passed his last night on earth in the prison cell in a cool manner and perfect collected way. In fact his state of mind did not change from that of last month. His indifference to the awful fate before him was not bravado, neither was it religious enthusiasm. It was due to the fact that he either did not or could not realize his position.

It was only at 7 o'clock last evening that he insisted on going into the yard to examine the gallows. While there he entered the little box containing the weights that were to jerk him into eternity. With a critical eye he examined the rope that held a weight of 135 pounds. He coolly remarked: "That won't be heavy enough to hang me." The deputy sheriff could hardly believe their ears. Experienced men who had seen the gallows used to put a criminal like this. They asked him to repeat his words and upon his doing so could not make answer.

WOMEN COUNTERFEITERS. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Aug. 21.—Mrs. Christina Keefe and her daughter, Lena, aged 25, have been locked upon the charge of defacing and raising money. They confessed after they had been confronted with the evidence. They prepared a new design and stamped the figure "N" out from the stamp on cigar box next to the figure "1," thus making it appear as a 50 cent bill. They made $20 in like manner and defaced other portions of the bills to conceal the defacements. It is known that they passed some of these on the local merchants. Mrs. Keefe admitted that she had worked the plan in Chicago last year, 1886, under the action of the United States commissioner. The penalty is 15 years at hard labor and a fine of $5,000. They take their arrest very coolly.

MARTLING CONFESSES. KANSAS CITY, Aug. 21.—John A. Martling confessed to a reporter tonight that he murdered Alfred H. Hunsden last Thursday afternoon. Hunsden was a prominent architect and was killed in his office by some man who used a brick in his attack. Martling was a draughtsman in Hunsden's office and he claims that his employer attacked him with a heavy gutta serena ruler and that he threw the brick in self defense.

CUT HER THROAT. CHICKASAW, O., Aug. 21.—Katie Willen cut her throat in the garret of her father's residence at No. 606 West street, at 8 o'clock this morning and fell dead. Yesterday and last night she was active and apparently happy in assisting to prepare for her sister Lizzie's wedding, which was set for 8 o'clock this morning. Notwithstanding the tragedy the wedding took place, the only change being that the ceremony was performed at the church instead of at the house.

THE C. & Q. ENTERS ST. LOUIS. KANSAS CITY, Aug. 21.—For years the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway has been seeking terminal facilities in St. Louis. This result was accomplished today by a contract made by the Burlington & St. Paul line with the Walcott railway, which is to be operated by the Burlington company of the Walcott track from St. Peters, Mo., to St. Louis. The contract takes effect September 16. The Burlington company is to operate the line from St. Louis to Denver over the Hannibal & St. Joe and the Burlington & Missouri River railway.

SAVING PRINTING BILLS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The Democrats

managed to spend another day on the Chinese bill although there was not on either side the slightest difference of opinion regarding its provisions, and it passed the house without dissent on a viva voce vote. The reason for this determination to debate the measure upon which the Republicans desired a vote immediately after the house took the bill up Saturday, was to make the government bear the expense of printing and disseminating Democratic campaign literature without expense to the Democratic committee. No sort of persuasion could get from the Democrats a vote on the bill until Byrnes, acting merely as a graphophone, had parroted the attack on Harrison and the Republican party, prepared for him by the Democratic national committee and read from manuscript, which, it is alleged, had passed the scrutiny of the party leaders.

COL. MASON RETIRED. WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Col. John S. Mason, of the Ninth infantry, was today retired from active service.

THE FISCAL SITUATION. WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The interest in the fiscal situation of the government, as revealed by the statement of estimated receipts and appropriations made by this session has in no wise subsided. Mr. Mills supplied himself this morning with all the data obtainable at the capital and it is understood that the treasury department has been called upon for additional details. Meanwhile members interested in measures carrying appropriations which have not yet become laws, and thereby escaped the chances of revision or rejection, are showing much uneasiness.

NEXT RIVER AND HARBOR BILL. WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Chairman Blanchard, of the river and harbor committee, has already begun the preparation of the bill and harbor bill for next year. The bill passed this session was the largest ever passed from that committee. Its appropriations amounted to over $22,000,000. This was largely due to the fact that the measure contained the river and harbor appropriations for two years, the president having vetoed the bill passed during the first session of the Forty-ninth congress. The amount of the appropriations in that bill was a little over $14,000,000. Chairman Blanchard says the bill for the next year will appropriate only about $10,000,000. The new measure, smaller than the bill passed at the last session of the last congress and vetoed by the president. It is thus evident that Mr. Blanchard does not propose that the next river and harbor bill shall be subjected to the same criticism as that of a year ago and run the risk of a veto. He explains that the amounts to be appropriated in the next bill will be proportionately larger in those sections of the country that were comparatively neglected this year and that the measure will be a new departure.

In other words, the river and harbor bill for next year will be a new departure, and congressmen whose feelings were lacerated by the manner in which their wishes were ignored and their goose pen rejected in a bill which had an opportunity to get in their work in the coming session. Mr. Blanchard hopes to have the measure formulated and ready to report at the close of the holiday season, and if the house passes it under a suspension of the rules, as it did the present bill, he thinks it may become a law sometime in February.

THE APPROPRIATIONS. WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—A statement has been prepared by the treasury department in regard to the appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1889, made at the present session of congress in the regular appropriation bills. It is as follows, as passed by the house and senate:

House.	Senate.
Sundry civil.....	$22,775,190	$22,775,190
Appropriations.....	25,392,400	25,392,400

Estimated surplus, $26,950,591, based on house appropriations, and $14,993,213 on senate appropriations.....

MEXICAN NEWS. CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 21.—San Luis Potosi advises say the first locomotive on the new road is expected there during the present week.

An immensely rich pocket has been discovered in the Concepcion mines.

CITY OF LEON, Mexico, Aug. 21.—Advices say that the place is being ravaged rapidly. Troops are working at the lakes surrounding the city to be on the safe side in case of flood.

MALT HOUSE BURNED. ROCKFORD, N. Y., Aug. 21.—At an early hour this morning the large malt house containing 20,000 bushels of malt, owned by Nielding, Schmitt & Co., of New York, and a portion of a boat yard owned by Conrad Hildebrandt, were destroyed by fire at South Rockford, together with machinery, etc. The total loss is estimated at over $100,000.
